GOVERNMENT MEDIA MONITORING AND ANALYSIS DAILY BRIEF

DATE: THURSDAY, 08 OCTOBER 2026

Newspaper	Page	Headline	Brief Summary	Government Source Quoted	Sentiment	O/M/A	Comment
The Namibian	Online	Will Amutse pay for cement merger error? – IPC's Hengombe	Independent Patriots for Change (IPC) parliamentarian Ferdinand Hengombe is demanding to know whether industries, mines and energy minister Modestus Amutse will be held liable for costs arising from his decision to overturn the Namibian Competition Commission's rejection of the proposed Cheetah Cement and Ohorongo Cement merger. "Why do we create entities funded by taxpayers' money with particular responsibilities only to overturn them?"	Ferdinand Hengombe, Minister	Negative	Ministry of Home Affairs, Immigration, Safety and Security	None
The Namibian	Online	Minister Indileni Daniel launches probe into NWR operations	If the story comes out it will make NWR put their books in order before our investigation, so we cannot alert them," one official said. He says the party had repeatedly raised concerns about NWR's financial challenges through parliamentary questions and motions.	Indileni Daniel, Minister	Negative	Ministry of Environment, Forestry and Tourism	None
The Namibian	Online	Dutch company to restart Sperrgebiet diamond mine	Dutch private equity investor Kenzoll Capital has partnered with MSF Commercials to restart operations at the Sperrgebiet Diamond Mine, formerly known as the Elizabeth Bay mine, near Lüderitz. "This partnership is part of our long-term commitment and investment in Namibia, with diamonds as the starting point and critical minerals to follow," says Kenzoll Capital chief executive Corné Melissen.	Corné Melissen, Chief Executive	Positive	Unmapped	None
The Namibian	Online	Zambezi region to host Miss Namibia 2027	Kabula-Simushi expressed her gratitude for being chosen as the next hosting region, saying Miss Namibia is a significant national platform that brings Namibians together. "These strategic locations, combined with our natural beauty and cultural diversity, make the Zambezi region a fitting destination for an event of this nature.	SYMBOLIC HANDOVER, Governor	Positive	Other State-Owned Enterprises	None
The Namibian	Online	Venaani calls for emergency FMD relief for farmers	Water is being cut, and farmers are asked to pay the Namibia Revenue Agency (Namra). He questioned whether the government could consider giving affected businesses and farmers temporary relief from some of their financial obligations.	McHenry Venaani, President	Negative	Ministry of Finance; Parliament of Namibia	None

Newspaper	Page	Headline	Brief Summary	Government Source Quoted	Sentiment	O/M/A	Comment
The Namibian	Online	Astronaut challenges pupils to dream bigger	Meeting someone who has seen earth from space was more than just an ordinary school visit for pupils at the Deutsche Höhere Privatschule Windhoek (DHPS). He travelled more than 120 million kilometres, circling earth 2 832 times while conducting scientific experiments and living in weightlessness.	None	Positive	Unmapped	None
The Namibian	Online	Expert Andrew Brown warns parents about online dangers facing children	He said parents should also establish clear rules around device use, including access times, downloads and passwords, while maintaining open communication with their children. He described this as “hyper-personal” phishing, where criminals use information gathered about a specific person to make their attacks appear more believable.	None	Negative	Unmapped	None
The Namibian	Online	IPC unhappy about TransNamib executives’ stalled hearings	The party says no hearings have commenced as of October, with recent proceedings reportedly delayed after one executive was booked off sick. He questions the “double standards” in disciplinary action, arguing that junior employees face swift consequences while senior executives allegedly benefit from prolonged administrative processes.	Nelson Kalangula, Minister	Negative	Ministry of Works and Transport	None
The Namibian	Online	Training puts farmers’ field schools in focus	Farmers learn in the field through practical activities involving crops, soil, water and other natural resources. The schools aim to help communities address challenges such as land degradation, water scarcity, climate change and biodiversity loss, while improving agricultural production.	None	Negative	Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries, Water and Land Reform; Ministry of Environment, Forestry and Tourism	None
The Namibian	Online	FMD derails Namibia’s El Niño plans	Last month, the Namibia Meteorological Service said it expects El Niño conditions to strengthen from October, potentially bringing a hotter and drier than normal rainy season. The outbreak has disrupted livestock sales, including auctions, making it difficult for farmers to reduce their herds in preparation of possible dry conditions.	Ben Haraseb, Director	Positive	Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries, Water and Land Reform	None
The Namibian	Online	Beekeepers want Animal Health Act to cover bees	Namibia faces a gap in detecting and managing bee diseases because bees are not adequately covered by the country’s animal health system. Environmental Lawyers Network of Namibia chairperson Des-Rose Englebrecht says the Animal Health Act already provides a legal foundation that could be used to deal with issues such as bee diseases, movement, biosecurity and food control.	Gretchen Burmeister, Director	Positive	Unmapped	None

Newspaper	Page	Headline	Brief Summary	Government Source Quoted	Sentiment	O/M/A	Comment
The Namibian	Online	Agribank to assess FMD-hit farmers for repayment relief	Agricultural Bank of Namibia (Agribank) chief executive Robert Eiman says the restrictions could put pressure on farmers who are unable to sell or move livestock while still having to meet their financial obligations. However, the bank did not specify what repayment options could be made available to affected borrowers, such as payment holidays, loan restructuring or extensions.	Robert Eiman, Chief Executive	Neutral	Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries, Water and Land Reform	None
The Namibian	Online	Simon Jr vies for WBO, IBF Africa titles	Namibian boxer Harry Simon Jr will challenge Ghana's Habib Giwa for the vacant WBO and IBF Africa welterweight titles at Rundu on 21 November. "We are determined to keep these titles in Namibia and believe this event will be a significant moment of national pride," Tobias says.	None	Positive	Other State-Owned Enterprises	None
The Namibian	Online	Namaseb wants Desert Jewels world cup-ready	Namaseb tellsThe Namibian Sportthat though the world netball showdown is in August next year, having enough time to prepare will always be an advantage. Namaseb says netball is a game of repeated explosive efforts, including jumping, landing, sprinting, decelerating and changing direction, which are often late in the fourth quarter.	None	Positive	Unmapped	None
The Namibian	Online	Blockbuster Indoor Hockey Test Series in store	For Namibia, goalkeeper Petro Stoffberg is the most experienced with 83 caps, while captain Sunelle Pretorius has 70, Gillian Hermanus 58, Azaylee Philander 47 and Jivanka Kruger 38. Namibia, however, will be without their inspirational captain Kiana Cormack, who is still recovering from brain surgery to have a tumour removed.	None	Positive	Unmapped	None
The Namibian	Online	Dressage riders converge at Okahandja for championships	The talented and dedicated youngster from Windhoek has little to fear in serious local competition, but she will be hoping to improve on her performance at last year's FEI Dressage World Challenge, where she came 18th out of about 100 riders competing at youth level in their respective countries. This year she will be concentrating on uplifting her performance with Heidi's Mohinho in the Senior II Class.	None	Positive	Unmapped	None
The Namibian	Online	Keetmanshoop man arrested for killing girlfriend	Shikwambi says Waterboer's next of kin have been informed and police investigation continues. The victim was taken to Rundu Intermediate Hospital and is in a serious condition.	Kauna Shikwambi, Spokesperson	Negative	Ministry of Home Affairs, Immigration, Safety and Security	None
The Namibian	Online	Lawyer Conradie sentenced to pay N$200 000 fine on corruption charges	Conradie and a co-accused, Sara Damases, were sentenced in the Windhoek High Court on Monday. Neither Conradie nor Damases benefited personally from the scheme in which they were involved, though, Masuku noted.	Conradie, Director	Neutral	Ministry of Home Affairs, Immigration, Safety and Security	None

Newspaper	Page	Headline	Brief Summary	Government Source Quoted	Sentiment	O/M/A	Comment
The Namibian	Online	Woman suffers serious burns after attack	This was announced in the weekend crime report by national police spokesperson deputy commissioner Kauna Shikwambi. “It is alleged that during an argument, the suspect kicked a pot of boiling porridge at the victim, causing serious burns to her face, hands and legs,” she says.	Kauna Shikwambi, Spokesperson	Negative	Ministry of Home Affairs, Immigration, Safety and Security	None
The Namibian	Online	Woman arrested for drugs worth N$2.2m at Goreagab	A Namibian woman (38) has been arrested after police seized cannabis and Mandrax tablets worth more than N$2.2 million at Goreagab, Windhoek, on Saturday. The woman is facing charges under the Abuse of Dependency-Producing Substances and Rehabilitation Centres Act for allegedly dealing in prohibited dependency-producing substances, as well as a charge under the Prevention of Organised Crime Act.	Kauna Shikwambi, Spokesperson	Negative	Ministry of Home Affairs, Immigration, Safety and Security	None

Kindly review the communication recommendations above and inform the MICT of any responses or actions taken by the institution to counter negative coverage.

NOTES: Highlight in red: Story is negative | Highlight in green: Story is positive | Highlight in black: Story is neutral